

Home policing attack on the five human sensis and denial

This is a letter to try and educate the working class public who hold real jobs who have had to with stand over ten years of wi-fi transmitted domestic attacks on your families, homes, work, and the economy by the massive social program component part of this society and educate on a situation that is effecting us all in many different ways and try to get rid of the denial that a lot of people still have after all this time about being home policed! For the most part these people have phycological issues criminal charges careless moral problems and dangers. And payed very well to attack your five sensis with thar hi teak scanphons, software, applications, and dangerous transmitting interferences with thar electronics.

HEARING: first the home policing community with thar scan phones and transmitters has the ability to engineer noises that after a period of time can have an effect on the human eardrum. Its usually in the form of a mechanical failure such as a hissing, or some type of leakage, ringing, or when moving around your home or at work when bending over to pick something up you might get a kissing noise or puckering, and voices that are kind of painful. This is not a motion sencer!! Transmitted engineered noises is different than your everyday noise because it comes from inside the head and out threw the hearing organ. Also, with thar electronics thay can de-edit or overlap the sound on your TVs, stereo, ipods, car radio this is all done to see and hear how aggravated thay can make you and it is my experience that you have to be careful you do not take it out on a loved one. This would be one of the first waves of attacks by the social program policing community.

TOUCHING: knowing willing and capable with the use of thar scan phone thay target a certain area on whoever thay are aiming at and proceed to electrically touch that area of your body in the form of a tap or tick to the ear or head also feeling itchy or slight presser to the crotch area. Might I add all happening within the uncomfot of your own home. These people do this to let you know that thay are in your home and thar is nothing that you are going to do which has been the case for over ten years.

SMELL: the scan phone and its operators also can record pheromones. Those of you that do not know what a pheromone is it is what you nose picks up what we all know as smell as well as save that smell I would use the word sent if it was Febreze or lavender that thay recorded in your homes the reason I say your homes is the fact that threw thar electronics can go in to anyone's house and pheromone gage how filthy it might be usually the restroom! Then shar it with someone else who is targeted as humor. Last but not least we come to a work release social program that your taxes pay for which allows criminals who are picked up by the police to be released in a couple of hours to continue thar social work a lot of the time these people are picked up for DUI among other things and with the help of the public incubation of these high budgeted programs has led to a stay at home breathalyzer with the use of the scan phone.

TASTE: works on the same component as smell with the scan phone. What its main function is for is that if someone is trying to quit a very bad habit like cocaine, pills, booze, cigarettes... with thar technology can give that targeted person a hint of the taste so thay do not have a chance to quit. This would be in order to keep their destructive social programing funding highly taxed, highly budgeted.

SIGHT: subliminal messaging is one of the oldest forms of an attack on communications. And where a wi-fi communication transmit has been altered threw thar soft where the home poliding community has the ability to display visual attacks which have an effect on what you see. Schools is where a lot of this subliminal visual altering takes place. Some of these people on these help the community programs call it art! This art includes transmitting a type of holograms in my experience in my home I get peines and orifices witch I knew was not a flower! When this type of behavior is happening in schools young undeveloped minds might have some trouble concentrating.... NOW on to polytech institute I have many sources communicated to me the opposite the watch community, instructors, students are making financial gain with these visual transmits by cheating on tests. And to make a long story short it easy to do some one's TV. If you have said yes to even one of these you have been attacked by the home policing community and thar is no more resin for denial!!

Please stop the incubating!
